Agility For Fun! and Obedience For Dogs

My love of dogs, and the path to training, competing and teaching, began with a 2 year old chocolate Labrador Retriever named Remington. He inspired me to understand and communicate, in dog language. Remington allowed me to absorb the world of T-touch training and behavior modification. Remington had aggression issues but, with the tools taught to me, we were able to compete in obedience and rally. I now have a variety of dogs I compete and train with. My female lab and myself were able to compete in our very first rally nationals (2014) and we also compete in obedience and agility. My goal is to be able to pass on skills taught to me over the past 15 years, and to provide the handler a better understanding of their dog.
